Spring ISD students seeking an alternative to the traditional middle school or high school experience – including smaller classes, personalized learning plans, accelerated credit recovery and career training opportunities – will have an exciting new option for the 2022-23 school year at the new Momentum High School.

“The development of Momentum High School has really been informed by everything that we’ve learned over the course of the pandemic about what makes our students successful,” said Spring ISD Superintendent Dr. Lupita Hinojosa. “We know that different students have unique learning needs and thrive in different learning environments, and we’re very excited as a district to bring this new school of choice offering to our Spring ISD community.”

In particular, Momentum High School will focus on providing a path to graduation for students who may have become disconnected or disengaged in their traditional high school environment, or who may just want to be in a smaller school to focus on their academics. Through a combination of flexible schedules and blended instruction – including both in-person and online components – accepted students will be able to leverage the school’s unique structure and resources to gain greater momentum in their own path toward earning their diploma.

“The vision for Momentum came from us asking the question: How do we as a district provide different learning environments that will allow all...
