The graphic is filled with various icons representing different activities: a soccer ball, a pencil, a bicycle, a family, a smartphone, a laptop, a lightbulb, a globe, a speech bubble, a book, and a coffee cup. The hashtag '#alumniubcathome' is visible at the bottom of the graphic. The post text reads: 'alumniubc Announcing the alumni UBC Summer Series! (link in bio)'. It continues: 'We are excited to share a curated calendar of events, activities, performances, learning opportunities and experiences for you and your families to take part in. All online, all FREE!'. It also mentions an 'Active Challenge' where users can win prizes by tagging the account and using the hashtag #activechallenge. A live event is listed: 'July 17: Will's Jams concert'. The post has 37 likes and was posted on July 8.

The image shows an Instagram post from the account 'alumniubc' (University of British Columbia). The post features a vibrant orange graphic with the text 'SUMMER SERIES Active Challenge' in large white letters. The graphic is filled with various icons representing different activities: a sun, a tree, a mountain, a bicycle, a person walking, a puzzle piece, a book, and a globe. The hashtag '#alumniubcathome' is visible at the bottom of the graphic. The post text reads: 'alumniubc What is the Active Challenge?'. It continues: 'A chance to explore your community, have fun and win prizes!'. It also mentions that each week during the Summer Series, there will be a drawing for a different prize pack. The earlier you sign up, the more prize draws you'll be entered into. The first week (July 13 - 19) is for 'Summer reading and learning prize pack'. It includes a large selection of books to add to your personal library, plus puzzles and games to sharpen the mind, and a cultural experience with 4 items.
